

Leader in Training (LIT) Application – Science Quest 2010

Science Quest is a non-profit, student-run science and engineering program run out of Queen's University. Each year we reach out to thousands of elementary school students through classroom workshops and summer camps; none of this would be possible without the help of people like you!

LITs have the opportunity to volunteer at our summer camps for as much time as desired. At the end of it all, LITs will receive certification of having completed our program, volunteer hours for the time committed, and an absolutely amazing experience!

The camp dates are given on the following page. Camp runs from 9am-4pm Monday to Friday. LITs will be expected to attend for these hours. (Note: camp will still run on Canada Day and the August Civic holiday).

Instructions:

Please fill out the information indicated on the second page of this form, and include your answers to the two questions on the third page. Please note that cover letters and resumes are not required for this application.

Completed applications can be submitted electronically (preferred) to scienceq@engsoc.queensu.ca, subject 'LIT Application', or mailed to:
